Water filters in stock at Griner's more years of service from any end your plumbing. Three Places Make Mystery Farm Number 77, Owned By Ned Regan The garden has been enlarged and to hunt and fish. They take care of spends quite a bit of time working

Mystery Farm Home Number 77

Regan and Mr. and Mrs. Charles work.

Mr. and Mrs. Regan work in Columbia at the Reliance plant, commuting every day. Charles Robbins is a senior at Columbia High School this year. Mrs. Robbins, formerly Miss Marvel Ann Regan, is keeping house. She likes to read asd tunes in on WCJU quite a bit. She finished CHS last year.

Mrs. Robbins said there are two other places in addition to the fifteen acres where the house is. One forty is about two miles west of the house and is being cultivated.

The other forty is toward Pearl River, in the swamp. She said she did not know how much of this forty is under water, but that the men had gotten all of the cattle out except two head they failed to find. They are worried about these two because they figured they must have drowned.

The fifteen acres around the house are in pasture. There is a good red color to the clover in bloom just south of the house.

On the cultivated acres are grown cotton, corn and hay for the major

Charles took some soil samples to school to be tested, Mrs. Robbins stated, so that proper fertilization could be given the growing crops.

Incidentally, Mrs. Robbins said this is Charles' first year to live on a farm. They were married last year on April 3. Charles does a lot of the tractor driving when he is home after school, she told us.

Charles played tackle on the CHS football team. He is planning to go to Pearl River Junior College next way on the west side of the rail-family fifteen years, Mrs. Robbins be classed as a hobby or a neces-rated. said, and they decided to keep it sary job. Four people live at Mystery Farm when they bought the tractor which when they bought the tractor which the result of the state of the s

Home Number 77. Mr. and Mrs. Ned now does practically all of the plenished with vegetables when they

Mr. Robbins is a member of the religion of the line garden, but Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Bayers and Mrs Methodist church. Mrs. Regan was Miss Molly Bedwell before she and Mr. Regan were married on Novem-

